This is an exclusive event that Marcellin College is proud to offer to our parent community.

Time & Space with...

Celia Lashlie

Be entertained and informed by this not-to-be-missed presentation from social commentator and respected speaker about boys’ education, Celia Lashlie. Find out exactly what goes on inside the world of boys, and be comforted by Celia’s practical and reassuring advice about raising your boys to become good, loving, articulate men.

Celia is the author of the best selling book “He’ll Be OK”, and will be our special guest on 21 October.

Starting off as a single parent of two children, Celia’s background is in prison administration, where she noticed many young men with lost potential and fractured lives. From there she started talking to “at risk” boys at schools around NZ, and so began her journey on the “Good Man Project”, encompassing 24 boys’ schools and 180 classes of testosterone-fuelled insight! Celia will speak plainly, humourously and with great clarity about her observations of boys - including some from her many visits to classrooms around the world – and tells how we can help “grow gorgeous boys into good men”.

Please note these details:

Date: Thurs 21 October
Time: 7.30pm
Location: St Marcellin’s Hall
RSVP: timeandspace@marcellin.vic.edu.au

Please write Celia Lashlie in the subject line. In your email include the following details:
• Names of adults attending
• Your son’s name
• Your son’s year level
• If from a primary school, indicate school please

Bookings essential!
Your email booking automatically puts you into the draw to win one of three signed copies of Celia’s book!